Actives International Represents Three New Product Lines

Actives International LLC is proud to announce that they have been named the United States agent for the personal care product portfolios of three companies, which will launch at the NYSCC Suppliers Day on May 19-20, 2026.

Cambrium, based in Germany, uses artificial intelligence to design polypeptides with specific functionalities, which are then produced using bio-engineering and precision-fermentation.

CNP Life Science offers a line of polydeoxyribonucleotide (PDRN) products that are made via a patented extraction method that produces highly purified, low-MW plant DNA fragments. CNP also manufactures extracts using a patented microclustered water technology that retains and preserves sensitive phytonutrient components.

Active Bioworks, based in Turkey, utilizes their proprietary BETA™ bioconversion platform to transform larger natural compounds into smaller, more bioavailable peptides and active fractions that have an enhanced postbiotic effect on the skin and scalp.

Dr. Jon Anderson, President of Actives International, noted that “the addition of these three product lines enhances our portfolio of ingredients and allows us to address even more of our customers’ needs. We believe these companies are excellent sources of Thoughtful Science™, science that delivers innovative, sustainable, and globally acceptable personal care ingredients.”

About Actives International LLC

Actives International is a research-based supplier of natural extracts for the Personal Care industry. Founded in 1998, the company manufactures ViaPure®, ViaFerm®, and ViaDerm® brands of ultra-high purity plant extracts, fermentation products and other skin-active ingredients. Product development is supported by extensive skin research, as well as in vitro and in vivo claim substantiation.

In the US, Actives International also acts as an agent for cosmetic ingredients from Contipro Biotech (based in the Czech Republic), Variati srl (based in Italy) and Oli (based in China).

ViaPure®, ViaFerm®, and ViaDerm® are registered trademarks of Actives International LLC.
